

A “Natural by Design” seminar

Protecting our Shorelines and Natural Areas

Saturday, April 24th 9:30 – 11:30 a.m.

Sandman Hotel, Penticton - Okanagan Room

- Environmental consultants: their role in development and assessment
- Assessing and caring for our lakes and shorelines
- The local government role in managing natural areas

Who should attend?

Elected officials, parks and planning committee members, environmental consultants, developers and interested public.

Speakers:

Jason Schleppe, Ecoscape Environmental Consultants Ltd.

Ecoscape has recently completed a shoreline management plan for the regional district. The project involved shoreline mapping of Okanagan and Skaha Lakes and creating a framework for ecologically responsible lake and shoreline use, while considering social and economic lake activities.

Jillian Tamblyn, Environmental Planner, Regional District South Okanagan Similkameen

As environmental planner within Development Services at the RDOS, Jillian considers environmental aspects of development proposals and coordinates environmental mapping and data collection required for Official Community Plans.
